

Group invitation text disappears on...

I just typed an invitation message to a set of users, inviting them to a group. It turns out I got one of the user names wrong, so when I clicked submit it came back with bold red text telling me that. I would have expected my invitation message to be there intact, ready for resubmission once I had corrected the error. However, the message reset to the default text.

Hey Michael,

I've added an enhancement request for this in our JIRA tracker with JIRA ID CS-9700.

Thanks,
