I am getting this in my logs, looks to be coming from Jive SBS 3.0.5 code:

Joel,

Any idea what action you are performing that is creating this error in the logs? Or does this happen on every page load?

I also noticed this the first time after logging in to our upgraded 3.0.4 -> 3.0.5 dev site. We're running the RPM w/the bundled Postgres installation. I'm not sure why it's occurring, and haven't yet spent much time trying to figure it out. If you'd like me to take a look, please let me know if there are any steps (e.g. turning up logging) that I should do before trying to reproduce.

Exception thrown with Jive SBS 3.0.5

This exception gets thrown when the server is started. I am 99% sure that I haven't even hit the site by the time this happens.

Now that I think back, you're right - it did happen when starting the server. Here's the log line immediately preceding the stack trace:

2009-07-04 23:00:30,232 [Task Engine Worker 1] ERROR
com.jivesoftware.community.impl.RecentContentManagerImpl - Failed to initialize

I was able to reproduce this just a second ago, went ahead and filed a bug: CS-13991

Doesn't look like it causes any issues with the display of the recent content, but we will check into it further.

Is there any update on this?

Joel,

Exception thrown with Jive SBS 3.0.5

With the most recent release of the support platform you can now see the status of all related cases via the 'Case Product Issues' widget that is located on the right of this discussion. At the moment the issue is still pending review from a product manager / developer.
