Hi everyone,

I found a really cool list of CMS software you can use to create your own community. It is quite complete, the only thing is: I think to use most of this software, you need some basic "developper" knowledge/background:

And here is a comparison table with other names:

If you have any tips on "ready-to-use" solutions that do not require any technical skills (when I say "any" I mean so easy that an 80-year-old-grandma could use it), please let me know!!

Thanks and have a nice week!

Gisèle

PS: not that I'm 80 years old or a grandma...

Wow, thanks for sharing this Gis.

I think that it's easy to use as well. I might make a project using this. 😊

Glad to help!!

For my project, I ended up using vBulleting to build a forum, it was very easy. I recommend it. 😊
