Does anyone have a recommendation for human moderation vendors?

Thanks,

Jim

Love to help if you could provide a bit more context. Do you mean you want a skilled person/company that will facilitate ongoing community engagement?

I recently worked for Communispace (www.communispace.com) in Boston. That company provides full service community creation, hosting and management - have well over 300 successful commercial communities - global operations.

If you are looking for an employee or 'contractor' be glad to recommend some folks but need the specifics of the kinds of communities that need to be supported. There is a very big difference in skills needed depending on the audience, goals and community longevity.

Let me know if I can help (zellmannrohrer_susan@emc.com).

Recommendations for human moderation...

Perfect assumption Susan, I'm looking for both companies and consultants to refer to customers for ongoing Community engagement. The type, size, and industry varies, but typically Fortune 1000. We have referred to Athena East in the past and are evaluating different vendors for partnering and referrals. Thanks for the recommendation. 😊

Nattergalen.com offers community management services.

They're the only company that I know of.

Hi Jim,

Impact Interactions provides moderation services for large organizations. We've been helping clients with moderation since 2000 at Participate.com and as Impact Interactions since 2003. Current clients include AARP, Cisco, SAP, and others. We'd be happy to discuss our services with you at your convenience to see if there might be a way that we can work together.

Mzinga has a section of their company that does human moderation. I just happened to be on a webinar this morning where they explained it.
